

Fiscal Court Agrees To Let ARH Operate Hospital, Judge Says

Appalachian Hosp.
Officials Meet
Here Wednesday

Top officials of the Appalachian Regional Hospitals system were in West Liberty Wednesday to discuss with local officials plans for ARH to assume the operation of the proposed West Liberty Hospital.

ARH President T. P. Hipkens told county officers and hospital advisory committee members at a meeting in the county Judge's office that ARH "is prepared at any time to discuss" with the fiscal court and "commit to writing" a contract whereby ARH would assume total operation of the West Liberty Hospital.

The hospital advisory committee earlier had recommended that the fiscal court approve such arrangement, and County Judge Gene Allen stated Wednesday that the fiscal court is in complete agreement with the recommendation.

Hipkens said he is hopeful that at least a tentative agreement can be reached before the first week in October when the ARH board of directors holds its regular meeting.

The Appalachian Regional Hospitals system operates nine hospitals in Kentucky and West Virginia. And experiences elsewhere indicate that a contract with ARH to operate the local hospital would relieve the county of much of the financial burden of operating the facility.

Hipkens told the Morgan officials that ARH is prepared to assume operation of the hospital as soon as construction begins. If a contract is signed, he said ARH would have charge of all hiring, staffing, maintenance, purchasing, etc. through its central office, and its central accounting and financing system would minimize financial difficulties which are nearly certain to occur during the first year of the hospital's operation.

He emphasized that while all administration decisions would be made by the ARH board of directors, the local hospital committee would continue to serve in an advisory capacity.

Hipkens stressed, however, that ARH's policy is to employ as many local persons as possible to staff its hospitals.

The contract arrangement would be in the form of a lease to be drawn up on a yearly basis, he said. "In other words ARH would lease the facility for $100 a year and the contract could be canceled at the end of a year."

Prior to the meeting, Hipkens, his assistant, Fontaine Banks, and ARH Executive (Continued on page four)

'Blowout' Halts 3rd 'Frack' In Deep Well

Monitor Petroleum Corporation workers were still swabbing out sand after perforating for the third "frack" job in its deep test well in Elliott county when the well "blew out" twice this week, showering the surrounding land with oil over a wide area.

The first "blow-out" occurred Tuesday, then a second Wednesday morning.

Oil and sand shot into the air about 150 feet over the rig, according to Bink Strickland, Monitor's division engineer.

The "blow-outs" came while workers were pumping out sand that had been used to perforate the third "pay zone" at a depth of about 7,620 feet. A mixture of sand and acid under intense pressure is used to perforate the "pay" structure preparatory to fracturing the strata.

"I can't tell what we've got—but it looks mighty good," Strickland said Wednesday. "It is blowing oil 150 feet over the rig and spraying the ground over a wide area, even on to some of the hillsides," he said.

Monitor's deep-test is on the Cecil Ison farm at Stephens at the mouth of Ison Creek on Little Fork. It was drilled to the granite at a depth of about 9,600 feet.

Electronic logging of the hole showed five possible "pay zones". The deepest "pay zone" was fracked six weeks ago at a depth of 7,900 feet. And a second "pay" 50 feet above the first "pay" was fracked Aug. 14.

The two first "fracks" showed "a lot of oil and gas—more than we had anticipated," Strickland said.

Workers commenced perforating the third "pay zone" last Friday, pumping a mixture of sand and acid into the strata under pressure of over 10,000 pounds per square inch.

Swabbing out the sand had not been completed when the "blow-outs" occurred this week.

Strickland said it was impossible to say when the "blow" could be brought under control.

He predicted a better well than at first supposed, saying that the "best pay zones

20% Blanket Raise Ordered By State On Real Estate

EX-SUPT. OVA O. HANEY DIES IN LEXINGTON HOSPITAL WEDNESDAY

Funeral Set For
Friday at 10 A.M.
In Christian Church

Ova O. Haney of Vero Beach, Florida, native of Morgan County and school superintendent here from 1934 to 1950, died Wednesday morning at 7 o'clock in Good Samaritan Hospital in Lexington where he had been a patient several weeks. He was 66.

Mr. Haney, who had served for 16 years as school superintendent in Morgan County and 14 years as superintendent in Larue County, retired from school work in 1967 and moved with Mrs. Haney to Florida to reside. He became ill over a year ago and his condition gradually deteriorated. Early this year he had submitted to surgery for stomach ulcers. Death was attributed to cancer.

Funeral will be conducted Friday morning at 10 o'clock at the West Liberty Christian Church with Rev. J. R. Nevius of Albany and Rev. Steve Bluff of the pastor, officiating. Burial will be in the Oliver Haney Cemetery at Stacy Fork with Herald and Stewart Funeral Home in charge.

The body will lie in state at the funeral home in West Liberty where friends may visit after 7 p.m. Thursday.

Served 30 Years As Superintendent

Mr. Haney during his 30 years as county superintendent — 16 years in Morgan and 14 years in Larue — made a number of notable accomplishments in education. He served as county superintendent in Morgan from 1934 to 1950, and as county superintendent of Larue county from 1953 to 1967.

As superintendent in Morgan during the depression years, Mr. Haney helped organize many local projects to activate federal programs in the county. It was during his term as superintendent that the stone high school building in West Liberty was constructed under the Works Progress Administration (the old WPA), also stone school buildings at Cannel City, Crockett and Wrigley.

Mr. Haney also instituted the school bus transportation system in Morgan County, and was the first superintendent in Kentucky to start the hot lunch program in schools.

Later, as superintendent in Larue County, Mr. Haney instituted programs that advanced that county's school system to one of the best in the state. Particularly outstanding was a physical fitness program for students, conducted in cooperation with the President's nationwide Physical Fitness Program, that gained national recognition.

He retired as superintendent in Larue in 1967 and moved to Florida to live.

Mr. Haney attended Morehead College where he received his AB degree. Later he received his Master's degree from Western at Bowling Green.

Mr. Haney commenced his educational career as a rural teacher at Stacy Fork, and taught in other rural schools before being selected county superintendent in 1934, following Bernard E. Whitt.

Mr. Haney was a member of the Kentucky Education Association and had been president of the Eastern Kentucky Education Association, which later voted him a life membership.

He was a member of the Christian Church and had served as deacon of the Hodgenville Christian Church.

BLUE DEVILS OPEN AT HOME FRIDAY NIGHT

The Morgan County High Blue Devils — winless throughout last season — showed marked improvement in their football opener last Friday against Raceland.

Though the Devils lost, as expected, they surprised everyone by holding Raceland scoreless throughout the first half. However, Raceland scored twice in the third quarter and once in the fourth to down the Devils 20-0.

The Devils under new head coach Marty Joyce are working this week to correct offensive and defensive problems in preparation for their first home encounter this Friday against Fairview.

Friday's game will be the first of a three-game home stand for the Devils. They will also play Nicholas County Sept. 11 and Callettsburg Sept. 18, before hitting the road again for encounters with Johnson Central and Paintsville on consecutive weekends at Paintsville.

NEW POLICEMAN IS HIRED HERE

His employment is tentative pending official approval of the City Council, which meets next Monday.

ELECTION OF ASC COMMUNITY COMMITTEEMEN NOW UNDERWAY

Nominees Listed For Each of Seven ASC Communities

Morgan County farmers are now receiving mail ballots for election of ASC community committees, announced Ben Cox, Chairman of the County Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee. Marked ballots are to be put back in the mail or returned to the County ASCS Office by September 11.

In each of the seven ASC communities in the county, eligible farm voters will elect three committeemen and two alternate committeemen to serve for one year. ASC community committees aid the County ASC Committee in administering Government farm programs. The community committeemen also elect members and choose officers for the County ASC Committee.

In the community committee elections, voters may vote for up to three persons. The ASC Chairman said it is important that farmers know that they are to vote for only three, because in the past they have voted for five candidates. Voters may select from the

Assessment Raise Will Add $5 Million To Tax Rolls Here

In a letter dated Aug. 27, the Kentucky Department of Revenue advised Morgan County Tax Commissioner Harry Coffey it had reviewed his 1970 recapitulation of Morgan county tax assessments and could not approve same. And on Monday the department advised Mr. Coffey that it had imposed a blanket raise of 20% on all real estate assessments in Morgan county, except on property which had changed ownership during 1969 or 1970.

The action was taken under provisions of sections 131.130, 131.140 and 133.040 of Kentucky Revised Statutes which require that all property be assessed at its fair cash value, the Revenue Department said.

The blanket increase applies only to real estate, and not to tangible or intangible property.

Coffey's 1970 assessment of real estate totaled $25,940,362. Thus the 20% blanket raise will add about $5 million to Morgan's real estate assessment for 1970.

The State Department of Revenue originally had asked Coffey to add $9,909,376 to his real estate assessments, divided as follows—an additional $7,239,449 to his assessment of farm land and improvement of $15,688,295; an addition of $1,269,736 to his assessment of residential property of $6,226,275; an addition of $72,832 to his assessment of rural non-farm residential property of $1,848,660, and an addition of $627,859 to his assessment of commercial property of $2,109,800.

Thus the 20% blanket raise on real estate is roughly only about one-half what the Department of Revenue originally sought in Morgan county.

Mr. Coffey submitted his recapitulation of 1970 assessment to the State Department of Revenue early in May. The county's total assessment by Coffey was $33,033,713, an increase of $1,395,697 over the previous year's assessment.

His assessment of all real estate for 1970 totaled $25,940,362, an increase of $773,313 over the previous year's assessment.

The 20% raise (excluding property that has changed hands in 1969 and 1970) will bring the county's total real estate assessment this year to approximately $30,940,000, which is considerably less than the $35,850,238 originally asked by the State department.

Mr. Coffey had declined to increase real estate assessments as first requested by the State department, and in the interim, agents of the Revenue Department, visited Morgan county to (Continued on page eight) candidates listed on the ballot or may write in choices.

Mr. Cox pointed out that the elections are by secret ballot. He said, "Where a voter has marked his ballot, he should fold it and seal it inside the plain envelope he received along with the ballot. He should put the plain envelope inside the envelope addressed to the County ASCS Office and seal that envelope."

"Then he should sign and date that outer envelope on the back. This is very important because his ballot cannot be counted unless he has signed and dated that outer envelope."

"This dual envelope system is for the voters' protection," Mr. Cox explained. "The plain envelope guarantees a secret ballot. The outer envelope insures that only eligible voters vote. Before the votes are counted, the plain envelopes are removed from the outer envelopes and shuffled to make it impossible to identify any individual ballot."

When ballot envelopes are received in the County ASCS Office, Mr. Cox said, they remain sealed and are deposited in a sealed ballot box immediately. (Continued on page four)

BROADWAY CHURCH OF GOD

BY SNOWDEN JOHNSON

Aug. 30 — This morning in our youth one group at Sunday school the purpose of the lesson was to help us to learn how to be better. The question was asked, "Do we have a responsibility toward making conditions around us better?" Do you? Is there someone watching you that might improve their life because of something you might do?

So often we make the remark or hear the remark that some younger person might be watching our life. I have learned from experience it does not necessarily have to be a younger person. I have learned many good things from younger people. Just this past week I had a little six-year-old to enroll in my classroom. He had been in another school. I was trying to get him to talk to me, so I would ask about other children that I knew he had been in school with. If I asked him, "Was Johnnie mean?" he would answer me with a big long drawn-out "Wee-ll" and a real quick "no". If I ask "Was Mary good?" I would again get the big long drawn-out "well" and a quick "yes".

From his sweet little expressions, all I learned was that everyone was good and no one was bad. Of course we adults are smart. We know that everyone who does not agree with us or does not act just like us are bad. I wonder if we are as smart as we think?

Could we learn something from this little six-year-old and only remember good not bad? Could we lead more people to Jesus by seeing their good and telling them how Jesus could magnify their good and cause it to grow until it would overshadow the unpleasant things in their lives if they would only allow him to come and take first place in their hearts.

Next Sunday in our adult lesson the title of the lesson is "A Way of Peace." Do we need peace? Could little people like us help to bring peace? Do little people like us cause unrest, trouble, and misery in the world? If we can say yes to the last question then surely the coin can be turned over and we can answer the other questions with a yes.

Is your heart so full of love that you can look for good in someone that you feel has wronged you? If not ask God to turn on his fountain of love that is always overflowing. He can give you enough love to start a tiny bud of peace that might eventually bloom into a rose that the whole world may enjoy its beauty.

Be with us next Sunday if you can and feel the peace and presence of God in our Sunday morning services.

SCS NOTES—
SEED COVER AND
GREEN MANURE
CROP SOON

BY H. A. WALLACE

A cover and green manure crop needs to be seeded soon in order to do a good job. These crops are applicable on bottom land subject to overflow; on upland where erosion is a hazard and it is essential to get a winter cover crop established, and on cropland where a protective cover is needed to reduce soil and water loss. Where a green manure crop is needed to improve soil tilth and structure; for cover crops following harvested row crops, select:

1. Species best adapted to the site, to the season of planting, and to the use to be made of the crop.

2. Prepare a good seedbed. Seed early to produce maximum cover before winter.

Field brome is one of the new crops being used for a winter cover crop. It produces a heavy root system with a good top growth. These are good qualities to have in a cover crop.

Do not attempt to get maximum growth in the spring at the expense of soil moisture.

Apply nitrogen at the time the cover crop is turned under for the next crop.

OBSERVATIONS • AND • PREDICTIONS

FARM BILL READY — The House already has passed its version of a new farm bill to take the place of one expiring this year. And the Senate's Agriculture Committee finished its version of a farm bill last week, and will be before the whole Senate in a few days for debate. The Senate committee concurred with the House in limiting the subsidies per crop to $55,000 a year, but efforts will be made to cut this to $20,000 when the bill gets on the Senate floor. The Senate committee largely rejected the House-sponsored new computation formula for support and set price supports at fixed rates of $12.5 a bushel for wheat and $1 a bushel for corn.

The Democratic Party "has disintegrated, and its remnants in some areas are being taken over by 'extremists,' alienating many of the nation's 20 million union members," AFL CIO president George Meany said during an interview. The AFL CIO will operate its own political machinery in this year's Congressional elections in areas where Democrats are in disarray, but will cooperate where there is a viable party machine y, he said. He added that unions are searching for an alternative to the strike as an economic weapon.

VOICES DRY — Franklin, a city with 4,176 voters, decided to stay dry in a local option election last week. The vote was 1,140 to 877 on the wet-dry issue.

AIR FIELD FROM STRIP MINE — 12 business leaders from Hazard flew to Washington this week to ask federal aid for creating a mountaintop airfield on a site being stripmined. Money will be needed to fill up a hollow at the head of the right fork of Upper Second Creek in order to make the airfield 7,200 feet long, and for compacting loose earth left by the strip-mining. The hilltop air strip would be near Lot-hair about five minutes drive from Hazard.

GALLUP POLL — The Gallup Poll found last week that Americans considered the nation's top problems in this order, by percentages—Vietnam War 24%, Youth Problems 17%, High cost of living 11%, pollution 10%, racial problems 9%, crime and lawlessness 6%.

THE COURIER has received 61 NEW SUBSCRIPTIONS during August to be delivered by mail

—this despite the increase in subscription rates on Aug. 10. THE COURIER now has a press run higher than at any time in the past, over 2,600. And all but a few that are kept at the office or sent to advertisers, are paid for. More than 400 are carried locally at stores and by carrier at 15c per copy each week.

CATTLE PRICES — Cattle prices in Kentucky markets dropped 50c to 75c a hundredweight the past few days, reflecting apprehension of feeders over the southern corn blight that has hit the major corn-producing states.

COAL TO JAPAN — There's big money to be made in coal, and new strip-mining operations are springing up all over the mountains. Japanese steel mills have out-bid domestic coal consumers for two years, and most of Appalachia's best coaling coal is now being sold to Japan. This leaves a shortage for steel mills and electric plants in America, and they are scrambling to get coal wherever they can. Some electric companies are burning inferior grades of coal to keep their generating plants operating, and price of coal has tripled in three years in East Kentucky.

FUGITIVE NOTICES — A number of nearby counties already have published their list of voters purged from the voter rolls. This complies with the State law, and affords the voter who has been purged an opportunity to protest in time to correct a mistake before he next election.

BOND ISSUE ON BALLOT — In addition to electing seven Congressmen this fall, Kentucky voters will be called upon to pass judgement on a proposed State bond issue of $48.3 million for capital construction projects. The money would be used to construct additional centers for the department of corrections and mental health, the school for the deaf, school for the blind, and child welfare. Included is a proposal to build a third state prison, a 475-bed facility which would separate first offenders from hardened criminals. The bond issue question will be on the ballots this November.

MORGAN NATIVE ELECTROCUTED WHILE AT WORK

Eugene Lowe, 44 of Athens, Ohio, formerly of Tom's Branch, was electrocuted last Wednesday while painting. He came in contact with high tension wires while painting a building.

He was the son of Mrs. Jessie Rose Runkle of Columbus, Ohio and the late Mr. Rose. Other survivors are his wife, Rosemary, and several children.

Funeral and burial were Saturday, Aug. 29, in Athens. Mr. Lowe was raised at Tom's Branch by his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Carpenter.

MOREHEAD BANKER CLAIMED BY DEATH

MOREHEAD, Ky. — Herman (Satch) Meadows, 58, a Morehead banker, died Friday. He was a native of Greenup County. Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Carolyn Stone Meadows; a step-daughter, and two brothers, Frank Meadows of Greenup and Russell Meadows of Morehead. Funeral was conducted Monday at South Shore with burial there also.

In urban areas, automobiles account for 85 per cent of air pollution.

BUSINESS HERE AND HEREABOUTS

APPALACHIAN REGIONAL COMMISSION has approved grant of $77,494 to continue a health program in seven Southeastern Kentucky counties. State and local sources will add $103,325 to the program finances a link between the University of Kentucky and the health care needs of citizens in Bell, Clay, Harlan, Knox, Laurel, Whitley and Leslie counties.

TWO KENTUCKY COAL FIRMS have been acquired by a power firm in North Carolina. Duke Power Co., Charlotte, announced it has acquired High Splint Coal Co. and Harlan Collieries, both in Harlan County. B. B. Parker, executive vice president for power operations, said the firm is planning joint financing of a third mine to guarantee coal supplies for its power plants.

IN JOHNSON CIRCUIT COURT, a $3 million damage suit has been filed against Terry-Elkhorn Coal Co., Consolidated Coal Co., and their tipple operators. Filed by James Rose, Jr., Van Lear "and all others similarly situated", the suit asks temporary and permanent injunctions to halt strip mining operations of the two companies in the Van Lear area, charges that the plaintiff's properties have been damaged by constant shaking of the foundations, coating of exteriors and interiors with dust and grime.

OIL TO ZOOM OVER 50% — The Oil and Gas Journal reports that a study by Cyrus J. Lawrence & Sons indicates the increase in production of oil during the first half of the 1970's will run over 5% annually—some 50% higher than many energy planners have been assuming. And, on the other hand, coal and natural gas—pegged as the growth fuels of the future—are expected to show a decline in the growth rate. Coal's rate of growth is expected to fall from 4% annually to 2½%, and gas growth rate is expected to fall from 6% annually to 5%. But most of the increase in oil's growth rate will come in the form of distillate and residual-fuel areas.

Meanwhile, coal continues in short supply, and price of coal is still going higher. Some electric generating plants are switching to fuel oil from coal because of the coal shortage.

SAVINGS MOUNT — Americans are placing more of their incomes in savings, says the Wall Street Journal. Consumers in the second quarter of 1970 were placing 7.5% of their after-tax income in savings, a big increase from the 5.3% rate of a year ago. Higher interest rates and decreasing consumer confidence in goods and prices sparks the growing trend of consumers to put more income on savings, said the Journal. The difference of 2.2% can cut more than $20 billion from the Gross National Product.

Ninety-one counties in Kentucky provided family planning services through local health departments.

ROWLAND TO ATTEND SPECIAL FIRE PREVENTION TRAINING SCHOOL

Marion Rowland of Ezel, Morgan County Ranger for the Kentucky Division of Forestry, has been selected to attend a special Fire Prevention Training School. The school will be September 9th and 10th, at DuPont Lodge, Cumberland Falls State Park. Approximately 50 Division employees from 20 counties have been chosen to participate in the training school. The instructors will be Division staff members, U. S. Forest Service personnel, and specialists from several other state forestry agencies.

5TH SQUARE DANCE FESTIVAL SET AT NATURAL BRIDGE PARK SEPT. 4-6

The colorful sound of dancing feet and mountain music will fill the air at Hooedown Island, in Kentucky's Natural Bridge State Resort Park on September 4-6, at which time the FIFTH ANNUAL WESTERN STYLE SQUARE DANCE FESTIVAL will be held.

The festival will begin with square dancing—western style, on Friday night, September 4, and ending on Sunday night with a "mountain shindig" composed of mountain singing, buck'n' wing dancing, fiddling, and more western style square dancing.

All square dancers are invited to attend and participate in this event which is expected to attract about 1,500 dancers and spectators.

The chief callers for the program include Larry Adams, of Indianapolis, Indiana, and Bill Spangler, of Newark, Ohio.

The Special Sunday evening program will include the Blue Grass State — the McClain ties. This past spring, Kentucky had some 1,900 forest fires that burned nearly 50,000 acres of valuable forest land. Over half the fires were in the 20 counties selected to take part in the program.

Similar programs have been conducted in Mississippi and Louisiana with excellent results. If the program produces the desired results, it will have three major benefits. First, it will reduce the number of man-caused fires. Second, it will reduce the damage to Kentucky's forest resources and third, it will reduce the amount of funds the state must pay to suppress the fires.

RECOGNIZE THIS SYMBOL?

This is the symbol worn by many of today's young people and is known as the "Peace Symbol." We wonder how many of them, or of you for that matter, know the real meaning of this symbol? The "Peace Symbol" is not something that is the product of today's restless youth. It was well known back in the Middle Ages and was known either as the "Crow's Foot" or the "Witch's Foot." This was the sign of those who were opposed to Christianity! It is a broken cross turned upside-down. Now do you see why it is a subtle sign of those who are opposed to the cause of Christ?

It is used today as a central part of the national symbolism of Communist Russia. The symbol is an age-old design, but it has never been associated with peace. It appears the Communists are winning their battle for the minds of our youth. They are making special effort to capture the attention of today's youth in America. Many young people are familiar with the "Peace Symbol" and wear it as jewelry and paint it on cars and draw it on their book covers. It is being worn as a "fad" gadget, not realizing they are supporting the emblem of the Anti-Christ, the Broken Cross.

It is hoped that the origin of the "Peace Symbol" will be remembered the next time you see it, then think of the real symbol of peace. . . . The Cross of Jesus Christ. —(Taken in part from ROTARY and the NEW YORKER MAGAZINE)

EARLE B. COMBS TO BE HONORED AT BOONEVILLE CELEBRATION SEPT. 6

BOONEVILLE, Ky. — Sunday, Sept. 6, has been set aside as "Earle B. Combs Day" in Kentucky by Gov. Louie B. Nunn. Combs, 71, a native of Peabody in Owsley County, will be the special guest of honor at the Southeastern Kentucky Homecoming Celebration at Booneville Sunday at 1 p.m.

Combs, who was recently elevated to the National Baseball Hall of Fame, will crown the homecoming queen and deliver the keynote address.

Sponsors of the event, Owsley VFW Post No. 1396 and The People's Journal, are expecting up to 10,000 persons to the annual affair.

Mrs. Hank Williams, Sr. and her all-girl band, "The Cold, Cold Hearts" of Nashville, Tenn. will be guest entertainers.

MORE THAN 76 PERCENT OF STATE'S CORN CROP INFECTED BY BLIGHT

The director of the Kentucky Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, James Koepper, said a survey of farmers in the state shows that Southern Corn Blight has infected about 76 per cent of Kentucky's cornfields — and is spreading.

Koepper said "Damage varies widely from light to severe, with the degree of infection depending on maturity and variety of corn grown."

Koepper said farmers who report to his agency say they expect damage in infected fields to be 39 per cent severe, 43 per cent moderate and 15 per cent light.

Estimate Difficult

He added the extent of loss is difficult to estimate, but damage appears heaviest in the west and west-central portions of the state.

The survey also showed that farmers are cutting more silage earlier than normal because they fear the damage will be greater if the corn is allowed to stand.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has issued a statement saying no accurate estimate of corn losses can be made until survey reports arrive. The report will be made in the department's monthly forecast of the size of the crop as of Sept. 1, which will be released Sept. 11.

The Old Tunnel Mill, near Dwarf, still grinds mountain corn.

Friendship is a Blessing

God gives us many wondrous things
I see them day by day
The grass, the trees, the sky above
And flowers by the way.
The sun so warm, the moon of gold
And stars up in the sky
All speak together of the love
Of Him who dwells on high.
But greater far than these are friends
He gives us on life's way,
Whose fellowship gives help and strength
And courage day by day.
I'm thankful for each one of mine
And pray that I can be
The loving, trusting, helpful friend
That each has been to me. (Pd.)

Plans For Modern Swine Production Facilities Offered

Commercial agriculture has changed rapidly in the past and will continue to change in the future. Farmers must adapt their operations to utilize new technologies in order to stay competitive. Many farmers are investing several thousand dollars in a set of new facilities in order to expand their production. Unfortunately, many times after the farmer has invested his money in a set of facilities, he finds it obsolete or in the wrong place.

The University of Kentucky College of Agriculture's Agricultural Engineering Department has recently supplied the Morgan County Extension Office with modern building and equipment plans. These plans, for family dwellings as well as crops and livestock, are available at your Extension Office announced County Agent Douglas Howard.

The most recent additions to the plans service are for swine. These plans include: farrowing crates, stalls, pig brooder; farrowing houses; nursery buildings for pigs; feeding and finishing houses; shade and shelters feeding equipment; loading chutes, shipping crates, and handling devices.

CARD OF THANKS

Lonnie Hill's request was when he passed away for his family to tell his many friends everywhere how he appreciated all the beautiful flowers, all their acts of kindness, and the many trips they made to Ashland to see him during his sickness and passing away. His family especially thanks everyone, too, in their bereavement.

STATEMENT BY OFFICIALS OF RATLIFF STOCKYARDS

We would like to take this opportunity to acquaint the general public with the true facts concerning the publicity of the stockyard's violation of the rules and regulations of the Packers' and Stockyards Act of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The newspaper publicity would make it appear that we have made a practice of short weighing the sellers of livestock at your yard. This is absolutely not true. Agents of the Department of Agriculture from time to time come to all stockyards licensed by them and check the weights of the cattle that have been weighed that day. They have been to our yard numerous times before this and we had no difficulty with them.

They have a regulation that the weighman cannot purchase livestock. This is a technical violation and we are guilty of that. We have also been charged with the weighman issuing some weigh slips without his signature or initials thereon and technically, we are guilty of that. The weighman is extremely busy while receiving cattle and he did fail to sign or initial the weigh slips, so technically we were in violation on this charge.

On March 30, 1970, the agents reweighed all cattle that we had received by weight and the only complaint or charge they made of all cattle received were those listed below:

Twenty-two calves sold to East Carson Packing Co. at a sale weight of 4410 lbs. Check-weighing showed to be 4490 lbs., a difference of 80 lbs.

A calf sold to M. L. Arnold at a sale weight of 265, which check-weighed at 270 lbs., a difference of 5 lbs.

A calf sold to East Carson Packing Co. at a sale weight of 260 lbs., which check-weighed at 265 lbs., a difference of 5 lbs.

A calf sold to Paul Reid at a sale weight of 205 lbs., later check-weighed at 210 lbs., a difference of 5 lbs.

A calf sold to Paul Reid at a sale weight of 155 lbs., later check-weighed at 165 lbs., a difference of 10 lbs.

Anyone who is familiar with the selling of livestock knows that stockyards scales break on five pounds, and if you will check the above listed cattle upon which the complaint was based, you will see that there is only one calf that has a difference of more than five pounds. We probably received between four and five hundred head that day and the only complaint of over five pounds, the breaking mark on the scales, was one calf. We think this is a right good record and we apologize for our weighman's one mistake.

The twenty-two calves purchased by East Carson Packing Company shows a difference in weight of eighty pounds. It is a common practice that if a calf is slightly over the top weight limit, to give the farmer's calf will bring him more cash dollars even though the weight will probably show a loss of ten to fifteen pounds. In our opinion this is the way the additional eight pounds was picked up on these twenty-two calves.

It is extremely difficult to operate any business without being in technical violation of some rule or regulation. In this case we were technically in violation, but in not one instance did any farmer or any livestock dealer suffer any loss due to our technical violation.

WE HAVE NOT IN THE PAST NOR WILL WE IN THE FUTURE INTENTIONALLY SHORT WEIGHT ANY FARMER OR LIVESTOCK DEALER AT OUR YARDS.

We have worked diligently for a number of years to build this into a sound, honest, and trusted livestock market. We feel that we have been successful and we solicit the continued support of the farmers, livestock dealers, and order buyers at our yards in the future.

The only penalty imposed upon us by the Department of Agriculture for these technical violations is the loss of two sales which are Monday, August 31 and Monday, September 7, 1970. We regret this inconvenience to the farmers of our territory, but we will be open for business Monday, September 14, 1970, with a special sale on our regular day, sale time 1:30 p.m.

Sincerely,
R. J. TRIMBLE

TAX RATE . . .

(Continued from page one) compare some recent sales figures to prove its point that land values had raised and should be reflected in the assessment. Mr. Coffey and the agents visited some 34 pieces of property on which the department had recent sales prices to make on-the-scene evaluations. As a result, some 24 were not considered as relevant. This probably accounts for the State department's agreement to reduce its original figures by approximately one-half.

To Reduce Tax Rates

The state law on assessments stipulates that where a blanket raise is imposed the Fiscal Court in such county shall meet and reduce the local tax rates to offset any increase in total assessment for county and school taxes. Thus, two more steps must be taken before 1970 tax bills can be prepared.

✓ The County Board of Tax Supervisors must meet and examine the assessments.
 ✓ The Fiscal Court must meet and reduce the tax rates for county and school purposes sufficient to offset the increase in total assessments.
 However, the state tax rate will remain the same as last year.

Mr. Coffey already has commenced adding 20% to the real estate assessments. But no date has been set for the Board of Tax Supervisors to meet and go over the assessments.

VOTER ROLLS . . .

(Continued from page one) matter," Dr. Holbrook said. County Atty. Thomas Davis was instructed to determine if a completely new re-registration could be held county-wide. Davis accordingly asked the Attorney General and was told this is not provided for by statutes. He was advised to have the clerk proceed with notifying the purged voters.

And this week, notices are being readied in the clerk's office to mail to all persons whose names have been purged from the rolls by the board.

County officials say no one denies the rolls should be brought up to date. The question is how to do it without removing some persons who are yet legal voters, Judge Allen said.

Last day for registering as new voters or voters changing their name or moving from one precinct to another is Sept. 8th.

ODDS AND ENDS

By Earl Kinner, Jr.

Dove season opened Tuesday. The only results we've heard about so far, however, was James Stewart of Hazel Green, who bagged nine opening day.

Some squirrel hunters are getting their limits we hear while others, including y scribe, are getting mostly exercise. Harold Barber, fish and wildlife biologist, says there should be plenty of squirrels moving in as the season progresses.

How West Liberty
Measures Up

Grit recently published the following editorial extolling the virtues of small town life— "How is Small Town America doing these days? Very well, according to economic researchers for the Chase Manhattan Bank of New York City. That's not news, of course, to those of us who are close to small towns, but it does confirm our beliefs that these communities are the best areas in the nation in which to live.

"A survey by the bank showed — and this is something small town watchers have known all along — that 56 percent of the population of cities would prefer to reside in these communities of the United States. No wonder they feel like that, because most small towns now offer virtually everything found in a big city — plus easy living, clean air, recreation areas, and good neighbors.

"Factories are being built in the towns and small cities of the rural countryside, says the bank's report. So many are going up that a remarkable statement can be made: Nonfarm job opportunities have grown faster in rural and semi-rural counties than in metropolitan areas.

"The report shows that from 1962 to 1968 total jobs in big cities increased less than four percent while the gain in rural areas was more than double that figure.

"The most dynamic force behind employment in small cities and towns has been manufacturing, say the bank researchers, who also emphasize that factories aren't the only jobmakers in our little communities. They mention resort and recreation centers, small private colleges, commercial laboratories, data processing offices, and federal installations, among others."

In line with the criteria listed above, West Liberty measures up well in all categories but one. Air pollution is no problem. Recreation areas abound near West Liberty, not the least of which is the new Pleasant Valley Country Club with its beautiful nine-hole golf course. Wooded hills, rolling pastures, and clear streams add to the charm of the surrounding countryside. And a number of state parks and lakes are within an hour's driving distance. Life, though faster paced than in the past, still in no way equals the hectic pace of life in the big city. Seven churches are located in West Liberty. Other well-kept and well-attended churches dot the countryside. And the neighborliness of Morgan Counties is legendary.

In only one of the above categories is West Liberty lacking — new jobs. Lycoming Shoe Co., which located a factory here four years ago near the town's paved hill-top airport, has added much to the economy. But no other industry has seriously considered locating here. This could be due in part to the fact that no other sustained effort has been made locally to lure an industry.

The lack of hospital facilities in the community may also have had a bearing, and to a lesser degree, overcrowded schools. However, a new area hospital and a modern, new high school, both now nearing the construction stage, will eliminate these conditions.

The major obstacle to new industry here seems to be absence of a good highway to connect the town with industrial areas to the north and west. Since most industries need modern access roads to move materials in and products out, present narrow, curvy roads have virtually eliminated West Liberty from consideration as a location by firms planning new factories. At least it seems so.

Completion of the Mountain Parkway a few years ago and construction of I-64 left West Liberty virtually isolated between the two. Towns along these modern arteries of travel have acquired new industries. West Liberty has not.

Currently, there is renewed talk about the need for a modern highway to connect West Liberty with I-64 and the Mountain Parkway. Three possible routes have been proposed for such a road — all with West Liberty as the hub. The need is real. Very real. For despite all its many other desirable qualities — qualities which industrialists look for when considering location of new plants — West Liberty lacks industry's one basic need: a modern, safe outlet to transport products to markets in other areas.

Visualizing future construction of a new highway, the Morgan County Planning Commission has prepared plans for routing of the new road around West Liberty. The plan was prepared by an independent Lexington planning firm contracted by the Kentucky Program Development Office in Frankfort, and is contained in a long-range planning prospectus which was published recently. This plan should be examined by West Liberty officials and businessmen carefully and with a cold and jaundiced eye. Experience shows that while routing highways around towns eliminates traffic problems in the towns' business districts, it also eliminates a lot of potential business, often forcing businesses to relocate at considerable expense and bother, and often leads to an eventual deterioration of properties in the original business district.
